Reed Making: Students are working at their own risk during reed making class. While we take great care to teach safety measures during reed making, accidents can happen.

1. Are you new to reed making or at a beginning level yes or no (circle your answer)
2. I understand reed making is at my own risk. _____ (Parent/guardian [if minor] initials)
_____ (participant initials)
3. How will you participate in reed making class? (Please initial your choice.)
 - a. _____ I will participate and understand potential risks
 - b. _____ I will observe reed making class
 - c. _____ I will practice or do something else on my own during reed making class.
4. We can provide some free "practice cane" to participants. Please let us know your preference. "Practice cane" is cane with various imperfections. It is a great type of cane to learn scraping techniques, but may not be suitable to produce a usable reed. (Please initial your choice.)
 - a. _____ Please send shaped practice cane (this is what you'll need if you don't have a shaper)
 - b. _____ I do not need practice cane
5. All Zoom sessions will be recorded. Recordings and screenshots may be used by students to review sessions and/or for promotional purposes.
6. The staff has spent hours upon hours creating the SOI Video Bank. There is a wealth of knowledge presented in these short, topical videos. Be sure to take advantage of them while they are available. DO NOT SHARE THE PASSWORD to the Student Hub area of our website. These videos were made for you, the participants at SOI. You have paid for this access. The videos will be available during the week of SOI as well as a couple weeks following.
7. Would you like to share your email address with fellow SOI participants? Yes _____ No _____

General Notes:

- Instruction will be conducted online from July 6-10, 2020.
- All class times are listed in CST time zone, therefore participants will adjust the times to match their own time zone.
- Classes will be conducted through Zoom.
- If participants live within proximity to each other and would like to work on chamber music in person, it is at their own risk due to COVID-19

Southern Oboe Intensive and staff is not liable for any injuries/illnesses associated with conducting this online class. It is recommended that minors be supervised by a parent/guardian. By signing this form I understand and agree to all terms.
